“ So sorry to hear of Kay's passing. She was such a beautiful person, who no matter what life dealt her, she would always greet a friend with a kind word and her beautiful smile. She will truly be missed by all who knew and loved her.

“ To Kay's Family:

Please accept sympathy for your loss. I knew Kay as a child when she lived with her mother and father, Ezell and Charles Caldwell directly across the road from the house I grew up in in Shelby.

Kay was considerably younger than I was, so I never had much direct contact with her, but one incident with her stands out in my memory of Kay.

Her mother began calling her one day when she was three or four years old, and she did not see her anywhere around the house. She kept calling and calling, and upon getting no answer went and looked down in the well.

Seeing that Kay was not in the well, Ezell felt better, and discontinued her search, knowing she was not in grave danger at least.

Today, Kay is in no danger at all, with the arms of the Lord wrapped around her.

May God bless all of you.
