“ My heart is so sad. B. J. Was my buddy and my best critic. No matter what I made, she always had to have one. She would come over to our shop and sit in Michael's recliner and say, man , this is a comfortable chair. She would sit there and we would talk and she would say, I better get up before someone comes to the shop....or Brian (her son) will fire me. We both always laughed because she knew Brian would never do that to her. I will miss her. She would sit at our shop or I would go over there. We talked all the time. You sometimes meet a person and you know right off that this is a person that is a true friend and you learn to love them like they are family...I am going to really miss her. . I love you B.J. Praying for all your family.....
