“ Although it's difficult today to see beyond the sorrow, may looking back in memory help comfort you tomorrow. I know for certain that we never lose the people we love, even to death. They continue to participate in every act, thought and decision we make. Their love leaves an indelible imprint in our memories. We find comfort in knowing that our lives have been enriched by having shared their love. Even though death leaves a heartache no one can heal, love leaves a memory no one can steal. I will always have my memories of Aunt Edna. May your memories of her help you to find strength in what remains behind.
