“ Joan and Russell, This is my second web message to you because I don't think the first one went through properly. I was so shocked to receive the news yesterday, from Karen Smitherman, of the passing of your father. I was very fond of him and visited with him every Wednesday. We always found plenty to talk about and we always ended our visits in prayer. I know your dad is in a better place, but I also know that doesn't help with your loss. Cherish the beautiful memories of dad and know he loved both of you so much and was so very proud of you. I will be praying for the family tomorrow as you walk together through the funeral. Love, Sharon
