“ Jo, Words cannot express my sadness at hearing of Larry’s passing. He is a good, decent, genuine man, and we will miss him terribly. We only found out today. The world is full of plastic people who believe little and stand up for less. Larry is not one of those. I count him as one of the few true friends I have ever had. Selfishly, I wish we could share more stories and solve the world’s problems, but that will have to wait for now. There is no doubt where Larry is today, and when our time comes, we will join him. Until then, all we can do is keep the faith and collect more of our own stories to share with him. Our thoughts and prayers are with you. Doug Reinsch (Susan, Sarah and Matthew)

“ Please accept my genuine condolences on the death of your loved one, a beloved classmate of mine at Shelby High. I fondly remember Larry as a clean-cut youth of integrity, likeable and wholesome. I pay our Heavenly Father will lighten the load of your bereavement in this time of grief. But remember this: "Weeping may endure for a night, but joy cometh in the morning."--Psalms 30:5. We all have many tender, warmhearted memories of Larry. I hope these will sustain you in the days ahead. His memories can never die, and will always be there for you to, to continually warm the sacred inner chamber of your inviolable heart and soul. May God's infinite Grace sustain you, now and always.
