“ What can I say about one of my bff. We've been thru some good, fun, happy, spiritual, & sad times. We didn't have to call or see each other every day to be best friends. We just seemed to know when one needed the other. As I picked up the phone to call u so many times within the last week before u went to Heaven something would always stop me. I kept remembering our visits in the hospitals & all the rehab facilities & the words u said to me as u were holding my hand. U thanked me for being ur friend always & it is I that should have been thanking u. For all those phone calls, motorcycle rides where u & Terry drove our granddaughters around, those lunch movie dates where we would laugh or hold hands & cry. those visits where we just sat, & ate, talked. Just spending time and lending ur shoulder, ur heart, & ur ears. That's what friends are for. Thank u Linda for being my friend. I will miss u but I know u are happy now & not sick anymore. Love u my friend. Set another place at the table for me. We will all be together again. I love u & I'm so glad we always told each other that. Till we meet again have the time of ur life FOREVER.
