“ To know her was to love her. Words cannot describe the love that my husband Tom and I have for Lyda and Lyla. One of Lyda's favorite things besides her family and her dogs was the love of God's word and history...Lyda knew so much about history and she and Tom loved to talk about. And she really knew God's word. There were several times she was telling Bible stories while she stayed with us recently and I must admit I thought that is not in the Bible a couple of times she was conveying a story. So my being the great Bible scholar that I am checked her out. Guess what? It was not just stories but the facts.
I miss you Lyda, but would not have you return to this world because surely you now have no more sorrow and no more pain.
