My family is so deeply saddened to hear of the loss of Sharon. She was such a beautiful person. We talked a couple of months ago not having seen each other for several years. She was the same sweet person that I remembered. Our entire conversation was based on helping others and how we received joy in doing so, which led me to believe that death was not the master her of her life.

The Bible tells us to "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in heaven." Matthew 5:16 (KJV). As we conversated, I could tell she did things without grumbling or disputing and out of love. We smiled as we spoke of our family, especially our children. Please know that her living was not in vain because Christ was in the midst and her glory is now in heaven.

Our condolences go out to the Studimire and Harris family. We will continue to lift both families up in prayer.
