“ Vicki will be greatly missed. She came into our lives at a critical point. I met her through a support group for special needs parents on social media. Although I never got to meet her in person, I feel through her posts, stories and all of her advice and support, she was a great friend. My heart hurts for her loved ones through the tough times they are facing. We are Truly blessed and grateful for the time she gave to us all.

“ To say that Vicki will be missed seems so inadequate. I have never known anyone with such a huge heart. She loves her husband and two girls unconditionally. I say loves because I know that just because she is no longer on this earth she is still here in their hearts.

“ Vicki was always there. We used to get transferred almost at the same time. She was the person I talked to. She was the one who I cried with. We would talk for hours. She was there when my world crashed. She was there when everything was terrible and she was always there for the laughs in the storm. I am so heartbroken to lose my friend. I will miss her greatly. Love always. The Original “Don’t be a Karen”
