“ Anne and I were close friends beginning in sixth grade when she first entered public school. She never let the heavy iron leg braces and crutches interfere with her enjoyment of life. My deepest sympathy to Calvin and the rest of her family.

“ I will always remember my Aunt Anne as being spunky and determined. Although she suffered much pain and discomfort, it did not keep her from enjoying her life to the fullest. She loved her husband and family. Her caring personality extended to her friends, her church, and her community as well. She will surely be missed by all.
